

Fiji's Economy

The physical environment of Fiji affects the economy in many ways. For one, the different natural resources that allow the economy to thrive. Tourism also brings in a lot of money. Tourists come to Fiji because of the perfect weather and beautiful scenery. The physical environment also makes people want to live in Fiji. Therefore, Real Estate has a huge play.

Cultural Diffusion in Fiji

In Fiji's History, there has been a lot of cultural diffusion. For example, when the Fijian Chiefs accepted the government of the British Crown. This has changed the culture of Fiji because the culture of the British Crown is very different. The main reason that the British were interested in Fiji was because of the land, which is perfect for the production of sugar cane. Fiji also has a western influence. Westerners brought British colonial interests, new religions, and businesses. All in all, Fiji's history of cultural diffusion still

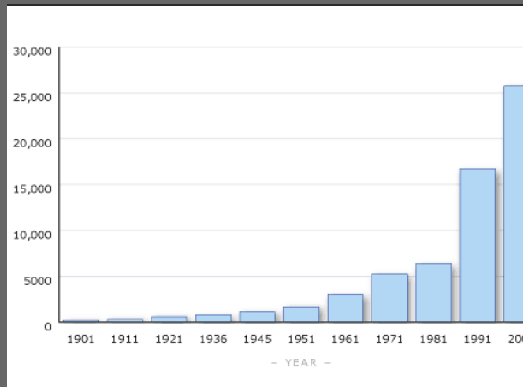

Fiji, Oceania

Trade Patterns in Fiji

Fiji's trade patterns are also affected by the physical environment. The trade patterns are decreased due to the climate which affects some growth of plants, which are a major export. Next, the ocean acts as a barrier

Notice that the graph above represents the growth of the population in Fiji

Extended Text

As I have said before the climate is tropical with no extremes. Fiji has many natural resources such as timber, fish, gold, copper, oil, and hydropower. Fiji has many mountains on various islands. Fiji has lush jungles and bold plants that decorate its islands.

You Should Move to Fiji

You should move to Fiji because it is beautiful and different from any other place in the world. Sure, places like Florida have nice weather, but not as nice as Fiji! It is tropical and has no extremes of hot or cold. How great is that? It is what people say is perfect. Fiji is paradise with thriving economies and beautiful scenery. Fiji has majestic creatures such as the panda bear, cheetah, dolphin, shark, and iguana. This special place gets plenty of rainfall and fresh water

Fiji, Oceania

Quick Facts:

- * Population- 884,285
- * Capitol City- Suva
- * Official Languages- English, Fiji Hindi, and Fijian Language